HISTORY (HIST)

HIST Class Schedule (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/DEFAULT/DEFAULT/HIST)

Courses

HIST 100  Global History  credit: 3 Hours.
Broad introduction to global history, by exploring the global structures and transnational forces that have shaped human history, from the emergence of agriculture and urban centers to our contemporary global village. This course can be used to fulfill either Western or non-Western general education categories, but not both.
This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for:
UIUC: HistPhilosoph Perspect
UIUC: Non-Western Cultures
UIUC: Western Compartv Cult

HIST 102  Reacting to the Past  credit: 3 Hours.
An introduction to history through participation in role-playing games set in the past. Topics will vary each time the course is taught. Students will take on the roles of historical figures (famous or obscure) engaged in difficult and complicated situations, and will be obliged to adhere to the beliefs and circumstances of those figures while attempting to pursue a course of action that will help them win the game – and possibly alter the course of history.
This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for:
UIUC: HistPhilosoph Perspect

HIST 104  Black Music  credit: 3 Hours.
What is black music, and how do we know what we think we know about it? Together, we will examine musical creations pioneered by Africans and individuals of African descent over several centuries and across hemispheres. Doing so will allow us to consider the unity of the African Diaspora and its music, and also examine internal differences and diversity. Special focus is given to Latin America and the U.S., but, depending on the semester, we will also read about, listen to, and talk about music and musicians in Asia, Africa, and Europe. Most course assignments are multi-media and interactive.
