RST - RECREATION, SPORT, AND TOURISM

Courses

RST 100  Recreation, Sport, and Tourism in Modern Society  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/100/)
This course examines central issues in defining leisure, recreation, sport, and tourism. Historical, philosophical, sociological, psychological, and economic approaches to understanding these areas, their behaviors and meanings, social contexts, and personal and social resources are examined. By the end of the semester, students should understand their history and evolution, as well as their impact on contemporary society. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for Social Beh Sci - Soc Sci

RST 101  Orientation to Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 1 Hour. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/101/)
Introduction to Recreation, Sport and Tourism which provides an overview of the RST curriculum, areas of study, and opportunities available for a career in the field.

RST 110  Service Delivery in RST  credit: 2 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/110/)
Introduces students to the concepts, principles, and practices related to the provision of leisure services; description of the various fields of professional practices and basic elements of leisure service systems such as budgeting, planning, staffing, and characteristics of client populations.

RST 118  Illini Student-Athlete Transition Seminar  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/118/)
Designed to expose student-athletes to the unique challenges and opportunities they will face throughout their time as student athletes. The course will explore their personal, academic, and athletic experiences. Students will learn strategies and techniques to be academically successful, develop leadership skills, explore careers and college majors, and gain insights to assist in the transition to higher education and the University of Illinois. Prerequisite: Restricted to first year student athletes.

RST 120  Parks, Recreation, and Environments  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/120/)
This course focuses on the study of recreation behaviors in different environments—the great outdoors, cities, and specialized settings. In particular, students develop a deeper understanding of how these three different environments support or limit various recreation behaviors. The course employs a holistic definition of environment that includes physical settings, social norms, and policies, all of which impact recreation behaviors. To understand the complex relationships between environments and recreation, the course applies theories and methodologies developed in the field of environment and behavior—spanning psychology, sociology, urban planning, and landscape architecture. Throughout the course, students discuss how gender, race-ethnicity, and socio-economic status can contribute to shaping the relationships between environments and recreation behaviors. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for Social Beh Sci - Beh Sci

RST 130  Foundations of Sport Mgt  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/130/)
Examines career opportunities within the sport industry and provides knowledge relevant to the management, marketing, legal, and financial operations of sport organizations. Incorporates applications in a variety of sport entities including intercollegiate athletics, campus recreation, event and facility management, professional sport, management and marketing agencies, and international sport.

RST 140  Nature and Wilderness  credit: 2 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/140/)
Origins of the nature and wilderness preservation movements; philosophy behind nature conservation and outdoor activities; role of parks, outdoor recreation, and nature-tourism in contemporary life.

RST 150  Foundations of Tourism  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/150/)
Survey of travel and tourism with emphasis upon tourist behavior, motivations, preferences, decision-making, attractions, transportation services, facilities and information sources. Examines travel and tourism as an element of leisure service delivery from an interdisciplinary perspective.

RST 180  Professional Applications  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/180/)
This course examines elements of administration, programming, and facility planning and management to high profile recreation, sport, and tourism destinations. The course consists of 6 modules completed during the second 8 weeks and concludes with a 12-day domestic tour (offered in May/early June) of RST related destinations in Indiana, Ohio, New York, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania. The course will provide students with a unique opportunity to engage with industry leaders at the destinations. The course allows students to explore, discuss, compare and contrast RST destinations, facilities, and professions and apply concepts from the classroom. Additional fees may apply. See Class Schedule.

RST 185  Professional Field Experiences  credit: 1 Hour. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/185/)
Provides students with professional career exploration experiences that involve developing networking knowledge and skills while engaging with recreation, sport, and tourism industry alumni and professionals in their offices, agencies, and facilities. Students are exposed to best practices and current challenges in the industry, and are given opportunities to make connections for internships, mentorship, and career advancement. Additional fees may apply. See Class Schedule. Approved for S/U grading only. May be repeated in separate terms to a maximum 3 hours.

RST 199  Undergraduate Open Seminar  credit: 1 to 5 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/199/)
Covering various topics for undergraduates in Recreation, Sport & Tourism. Additional fees may apply. See Class Schedule. Approved for Letter and S/U grading. May be repeated, as topics vary.

RST 200  Leadership in Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 2 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/200/)
Leadership theories and practices as related to design and delivery of leisure programs. Processes of group development and interpersonal communication in leisure service organizations.
RST 205 Issues in Intercollegiate Athletics: The Big Ten Conference credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/205/)
For more than 120 years THE BIG TEN has set the standard for college sports. This course will take an historical review of the important decisions and policies conference leaders have made to shape and define the league. With insights and analyses from Big Ten executives, the course will critically examine factors and variables that led to the Rose Bowl partnership, conference expansion, the Big Ten Network, and bold initiatives in growing women's sports. Prerequisite: RST 130 recommended but not required.

RST 210 Management in Recreation, Sport and Tourism credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/210/)
This course will introduce students to management issues in the field of recreation, sport, and tourism. Students will be encouraged to begin thinking like a manager and to develop skills related to using management techniques and theories to solve problems that arise in the RST industry. The course will address foundational concepts related to: 1) the RST industry (e.g., sectoral differences, organizational structures and types); 2) management of RST organizations (e.g., leadership, ethics, management theory); and 3) skills to effectively manage human, financial, and marketing resources. This course is intended to prepare students for more advanced courses related to management in RST.

RST 216 Technology in Recreation, Sport and Tourism credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/216/)
An 8-week online class that will assist students in understanding technological advances in recreation, sport and tourism behavior and management through virtual reality (VR) demonstrations and class debates; discussing technology adoption rates in eastern and western cultures and contexts by examining global trends in technology innovations; and critiquing technology's impacts on personal lives, experiences, and worldviews.

RST 218 Entrepreneurship credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/218/)
In-depth study of the delivery of leisure services in the for-profit sector. Covers the scope and administrative functions of recreation enterprises, including an analysis of planning, controlling, and developing recreation enterprises.

RST 224 Politics of the National Parks credit: 2 or 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/224/)
Same as PS 224. See PS 222. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for:
Social Beh Sci - Soc Sci

RST 225 Environmental Politics & Policy credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/225/)
Same as PS 225. See PS 225. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for:
Social Beh Sci - Soc Sci

RST 230 Diversity in Recreation, Sport, and Tourism credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/230/)
Course is designed to increase awareness and knowledge of the needs of members of ethnic and racial minorities, people of lower socio-economic status, women, older adults, people of alternative lifestyles, and people with disabilities when it comes to recreation, sport, and tourism services. It introduces students to concepts and factors that influence the delivery of recreation, sport, and tourism services to diverse populations. Same as HDFS 263 and KIN 230. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for:
Cultural Studies - US Minority

RST 240 Financial Resource Management in Recreation, Sport and Tourism credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/240/)
This course examines financial concepts in the RST industry across public, private, for-profit, and not-for-profit sectors. It covers revenue management, pricing strategies, grantsmanship, fundraising, sponsorship, budgeting, and ratio analysis. Prerequisite: RST 100 and RST 210.

RST 242 Nature and American Culture credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/242/)
Designed to aid in students' understanding, appreciation, and critique of cultural meanings associated with American natural landscapes. To do so, traditional perspectives including colonial American, romantic, and science-based conservation are characterized, as well as revisionist themes aligned with gender, cultural pluralism, and societal meanings of parks and protected areas. Implications of diversity including gender and multicultural meanings toward nature are developed and provide the basis for assessing tenets of contemporary environmental policy and supporting concepts associated with community-based conservation. Same as LA 242 and NRES 242. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for:
Cultural Studies - Western
RST 280 Practicum in Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 1 Hour. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/280/)
The practicum course is a 1-credit course that requires students to complete a minimum of 100 hours over the term/semester with an agency that relates to the field of recreation, sport, and tourism. The course enhances the practicum experience by leading students through assignments that will assist them in reflecting on their learning/work experience. The Job Description must be approved and the Site Confirmation Form and Affiliation Agreement must be in place prior to the start of the practicum experience. Students should contact the practicum coordinator for specific instructions and recommendations 3-weeks prior to the start date. Approved for S/U grading only. May be repeated if topics vary to a maximum of 3 credit hours.

RST 300 Leisure Programming  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/300/)
Develops understanding of the process of leisure/recreation programming and the practical aspects of program design and delivery. Prerequisite: RST 100.

RST 301 Sport Brand Management  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/301/)
Provides an in-depth study of sport brand management. Students will learn how to build and manage brands pursuant to the development of brand equity and how to brand architecture strategies and manage brands over time and across geographic boundaries. Students will apply theories and models of branding to sport branding scenarios and making sound business decisions. Student will gain an understanding of the importance of branding and its impact on consumer behavior. Prerequisite: RST 325 (Marketing in Recreation, Sport and Tourism) or equivalent marketing course or consent of instructor.

RST 314 Introduction to Aging  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/314/)
Same as CHLH 314, HDFS 314, PSYC 314, and REHB 314. See CHLH 314.

RST 316 Human Development and Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/316/)
This course will examine the impacts of recreation, sport and tourism activities on human development throughout the lifespan. We will discuss how these activities can promote and/or hinder development across the lifespan as well as how development influences individuals’ participation in these activities over time. Building on these concepts, we will discuss applications for creating programs, services, and facilities that are appropriate and satisfying for people in different life stages.

RST 317 Designing Parks and Recreation Experiences  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/317/)
Examines the roles of parks and recreation professionals in strategically creating optimal experiences for constituents. Parks and recreation professionals must consider the interplay between a range of factors including diverse individuals, communities, and the environment. This course will focus on how professionals create experiences that are meaningful and beneficial for individuals or groups, communities, and society. Students will explore historical and philosophical foundations of parks and recreation provision as well as the organizational structure and administrative approaches in the public, non-profit, and commercial sectors. Students will also learn strategies for designing optimal experiences in a variety of settings such as camps, aquatics, arts and culture programs, and health and fitness centers. Credit is not given for RST 217 and RST 317.

RST 325 Marketing in Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/325/)
Application of marketing concepts to the delivery of leisure services. Introduces consumer decision theory analysis. Provides an integrative study of the methods and models for developing and evaluating alternative marketing strategies.

RST 335 Leisure and Consumer Culture  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/335/)
Examination of contemporary patterns and meanings of leisure in a consumer society. Understanding of the impact of consumption on expressions of identity, gender, social class, race and ethnicity. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for: Social Beh Sci - Soc Sci

Cultural Studies - Western

RST 340 Facility Management in Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/340/)
Basic understanding of park operations, facility design, construction, and maintenance practices; staff allocations, job analysis, contract administration, organizational structures. Prerequisite: RST 100.

RST 346 Case Study: Endless Summer  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/346/)
Same as KIN 346 and MACS 346. See KIN 346.

RST 350 Tourism and Culture  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/350/)
Studies the relationships that exist between tourists, hosts, their respective culture(s), and the cultural environments in which they interact. Studies tourism and its impacts across cultural boundaries, as well as concepts of cultural authenticity, modernity, image creation, social justice, diversity, and representation of social, racial and ethnic groups. Field trip required.

RST 354 Legal Aspects of Sport  credit: 3 or 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/354/)
A study of legal principles and their impact on the sport industry; the course examines the application of different areas of law including tort, contract, constitutional, anti-trust, and intellectual property law to professional, amateur and recreational sport.

RST 360 Communication in Recreation, Sport & Tourism  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/360/)
Problem-based service learning within recreation, sport and tourism (RST) is utilized to learn integrated marketing and communications (IMC) concepts and develop an IMC plan to solve organizational issues as they relate to RST. IMC concepts within the context of RST addressed in this course include audience analysis, assessing public opinion, message strategy (e.g., promotion, publicity), crisis communication, media relations, image & reputation management, corporate relations, sales, development & fundraising. Prerequisite: RST 210.

RST 365 Civic Engagement in Wellness  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/365/)
Same as AHS 365, CHLH 365, KIN 365, and SHS 370. See KIN 365.

RST 370 Research Methods & Analysis  credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/370/)
Educates students in principles of research design, data collection, measurement, methods of statistical analysis, techniques in summarizing data, and the interpretation and application of research findings to the field of Leisure Studies. This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for: Quantitative Reasoning II.

Information listed in this catalog is current as of 09/2021
RST 390 Honors credit: 2 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/390/)
Same as CHLH 390 and KIN 390. See KIN 390.

RST 393 Special Problems credit: 1 to 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/393/)
Special projects in research and independent investigation in any phase of health, physical education, recreation, or related areas selected by the student. May be repeated to a maximum of 6 hours. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing; grade-point average of 3.0; consent of academic advisor, instructor, and head of department.

RST 410 Strategic Thinking in Recreation, Sport and Tourism credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/410/)
In this capstone course, students integrate previous knowledge including management, marketing, finance and budgeting, operations, and human resources into the development of management strategies for the recreation, sport and tourism industries. Students acquire in-depth knowledge and critical understanding of the various frameworks in which RST organizations operate (commercial, for-profit, not-for-profit, public) and the associated management processes that align with these frameworks including strategic management, industry and competitive analyses, competitive advantage, internal strategies, and issues pertaining to the social responsibility of RST organizations. 3 undergraduate hours. No graduate credit. Prerequisite: RST 210, RST 240, and RST 325, or consent of instructor.

This course satisfies the General Education Criteria for: Advanced Composition

RST 429 Contemporary Issues in Recreation, Sport and Tourism credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/429/)
Provides a capstone experience to encourage critical and creative thinking regarding knowledge students accrued from prior courses. The first eight weeks students will meet as a whole and focus on leisure concepts in general, and the second eight weeks students will focus on their specific concentration, (Sport Management, Tourism, or Community Recreation). 4 undergraduate hours. 4 graduate hours. Prerequisite: RST 120, or RST 130, or RST 150, and senior status.

RST 430 Sport & Development credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/430/)
This course will provide an overview of sport development and sport for development, and the linkages and intersections between the two concepts. Sport development is concerned with the creation and management of systems designed to optimize participation in sport, and the movement of athletes both vertically and horizontally through the sport system. Sport for development focuses on the use of sport to potentially achieve social change and development outcomes at the individual, community, and societal levels. Invariably, these concepts are linked, and one cannot exist without the other. Each module will take an integrative approach and examine sport development and sport for development concurrently, with focus on practical applications of all concepts. 3 undergraduate hours. No graduate credit. Prerequisite: RST 130 and RST 354 or consent of instructor.

RST 440 HR Management in RST credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/440/)
Concepts, principles, and objectives of supervision; the nature of the supervisory relationship; supervisory functions and processes; identification and application of methods and techniques; organizational and operational patterns of supervision in recreation and park settings. 3 undergraduate hours. No graduate credit.

RST 441 Community Planning and Engagement credit: 3 or 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/441/)
This project-based course will provide students with a practical opportunity to serve a community in Illinois. This course focuses on the planning process related to outdoor recreational use of lands in the public domain and seeks to develop a deeper understanding of how to inventory, analyze, and create a strategic vision for recreational services in communities. We will build on the students' knowledge from other RST courses (e.g. RST 210: Management in RST, RST 240: Financial Resource Management, and RST 325: Leisure Service Marketing) and incorporate literature reflective of current research and past trends in leisure, psychology, sociology, urban planning, and landscape architecture. Additional fees may apply. See Class Schedule. 3 undergraduate hours. 4 graduate hours. Graduate-level coursework: This course may be taken as a 4-credit graduate level course. Graduate students enrolled in this class will be expected to take on additional responsibilities and leadership roles including the development and analysis of an electronic survey that will be used to better understand the needs of the community. Prerequisite: Junior standing; or consent of instructor.

RST 450 Tourism Planning & Development credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/450/)
Tourism has become one of the world's largest business sectors, and consequently many industries rely on tourism to boost their businesses. Moreover, tourism is often an integral element in development policies and has been widely adopted as a catalyst of economic and community development. Students will examine and discuss current issues and future challenges regarding tourism development and destination management. In particular, students will be challenged to critically analyze the interdependence between tourism development and the economy, culture, society, the natural environment, globalization, new technology, and sustainability. In addition, students will be expected to understand and apply key principles of tourism planning and destination management to effectively address current issues and trends. 3 undergraduate hours. 3 graduate hours. Prerequisite: RST 150 or consent of instructor. Not intended for students with Freshman or Sophomore class standing.

RST 459 Heritage Management credit: 3 or 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/459/)
Same as ANTH 460 and LA 460. See ANTH 460.

RST 460 Event Management in Recreation, Sport and Tourism credit: 3 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/460/)
This course will analyze event management and draw from the social sciences, finance, the arts, and related professional fields to examine the experiences and attributed meanings of planned events. In addition, students will acquire an in-depth knowledge of the specialized field of event management and become familiar with management techniques and strategies required for successful planning, promotion, implementation and evaluation of events within recreation, sport and tourism contexts. 3 undergraduate hours. No graduate credit. Prerequisite: RST 210, RST 240, RST 325 or consent of instructor.

Information listed in this catalog is current as of 09/2021
RST 465 Event Implementation and Evaluation in Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 4 Hours.
This course is the second of a two course event capstone series. The first class (RST 460) examines the core basics from idea generation through initial planning stages. This course (RST 465) builds on material covered in the first course and includes an in-depth, thorough, and critical examination of the event experience including the roles of the event manager, event planning strategies, marketing and sponsorship concepts, legal aspects, staff management, budgeting, and evaluation. 3 undergraduate hours. No graduate credit. Prerequisite: RST 460.

RST 480 Orientation to Internship  credit: 1 Hour.
Prepares and places students in the RST Internship (RST 485). Topics include placement requirements and policies, resume preparation, interviewing skills, acquiring letters of application, and the rules and issues of professional practice. 1 undergraduate hour. No graduate credit.

RST 485 Internship  credit: 12 Hours.
The internship course requires you to complete a minimum of 400 hours over 10 weeks with an agency that relates to your major. The course is designed to enhance the internship experience by leading you through practical steps that empower you in the learning/working experience, practice skills and concepts presented in academic classes, explore areas of personal and professional interest, and by introducing problem and conflict solving techniques. 12 undergraduate hours. No graduate credit. Approved for S/U grading only. Prerequisite: RST 100, RST 101, RST 200, RST 255, RST 210, RST 240, RST 325, RST 480, and one of the following - RST 120, RST 130, or RST 150. Restricted to students with Junior or Senior standing.

RST 515 Marketing in RST  credit: 4 Hours.
Examines quality service issues and service strategies needed to attain competitive advantage across leisure industries. Using a customer-focused management framework, the course focuses on customer satisfaction and retention, linking service quality, customer lifetime value, profitability segmentation, services mapping, understanding customer expectations and developing service and customer-focused relationship marketing strategies.

RST 516 Finance & Budgeting in RST  credit: 4 Hours.
Addresses the financial needs of organizations in recreation, sport and tourism. Students are introduced to the terminology and financial measurement tools used by academics and firms in the industry. Current economic issues, revenue streams, and budgeting are emphasized. Students develop the ability to critically assess the financial strengths and vulnerabilities of individual organizations and the field as a whole. An in-depth examination of an organization's internal and external environment in recreation, sport or tourism serves as the capstone.

RST 518 Event Management  credit: 4 Hours.
Analyze special events from theoretical and applied perspectives and draw from the social sciences, management, the arts, and related professional fields to analyze the experience and attributed meanings of planned events. Students will acquire an in-depth knowledge of the specialized field of event management and become familiar with techniques and strategies required for successful planning, promotion, implementation and evaluation of special events within recreation, sport and tourism contexts.

RST 519 Strategic Management in RST  credit: 4 Hours.
In this capstone module, students integrate previous knowledge, including management, marketing, finance, RST operations and human resources, in the development of business strategy in a competitive setting in recreation, sport and tourism industries. Students acquire in-depth knowledge and critical understanding of the environment in which RST organizations operate, the strategic management process, industry and competitive analysis, strategies to build competitive advantage, managing the internal organization and issues pertaining to the social responsibility of RST organizations. 4 graduate hours. No professional credit. Prerequisite: RST 512, RST 515, RST 516, or consent of instructor.
RST 520 Critical Issues Sport Mgt  credit: 4 Hours. (http://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/520/)
An analysis of the sport industry with special emphasis given to the role and function of the sport manager. Addresses advanced issues related to organizational theory, finance, marketing, sponsorship, contemporary management and leadership, decision making and strategic planning.

RST 530 Critical Issues Tourism Mgt  credit: 4 Hours. (http://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/530/)
Exposes students to advanced theories, methods, practices and principles that govern tourism behavior. Survey the body of literature on tourism, examining ongoing debates regarding how individuals travel and the structures of institutions that shape travel.

RST 550 Theory and Methods of Leisure  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/550/)
Surveys concepts, methods, and problems of leisure research that are common to community recreation, sport and tourism. Histories of theoretical and methodological development are discussed, appreciated and critiqued. Examines the development of ideas through literature, with discussion centered on explaining the evolution of a given concept.

RST 551 Contemporary Issues in Leisure  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/551/)
Provides students with a greater understanding and appreciation of the various disciplines that influence, and are related to, leisure. Examines how these disciplines might influence future research in leisure studies. Prerequisite: RST 550.

RST 555 Diversity in Leisure Behavior  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/555/)
Examines diversity as it relates broadly to leisure behavior and services, and quality of life issues. Examines leisure diversity in terms of sexual identity, age, social class, gender, race, ethnicity, as well as mental and physical ability.

RST 560 Teaching in the Professoriate  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/560/)
Same as CHLH 565, KIN 565, and SHS 565. See KIN 565.

RST 570 Cultural Aspects of Tourism  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/570/)
Develops an advanced understanding of relationships between tourists and the toured, including in-depth knowledge of the phenomenon of tourism and its consequences for individuals and societies. Examines the complexity of movement of peoples across cultural boundaries, coupled with theories related to authenticity, modernity, image creation, social justice, diversity, and representation of social, racial and ethnic groups. Same as ANTH 570. Prerequisite: Graduate standing.

RST 584 Management Internship  credit: 2 to 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/584/)
Work-study experience in the management aspects of leisure service delivery systems. Students are assigned to agencies in their special fields of study and are closely supervised by University faculty. Prerequisite: RST 484 or graduate standing.

RST 586 Health and Leisure in Recreation, Sport and Tourism  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/586/)
In this graduate course, current issues and trends in research and practice on the topics of leisure, health and wellness across the lifespan are examined as they relate to RST. The variety of ways leisure/recreation affects health/well-being and how health/well-being affects leisure is examined from the perspectives of many disciplines. This course also emphasizes RST policy and program implications and approaches to research and program evaluation (e.g., methodologies, translational, transformative, community participatory). Same as HDFS 586. 4 graduate hours. No professional credit.

RST 587 Sport and Development  credit: 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/587/)
Provides an overview of sport development (development of sport systems and skills) and sport for development (use of sport for individual and community development). These concepts are linked, as many organizations engage in both aspects, and one cannot exist without the other. Sport development topics explore comparative sport development, participation pathways, and design and evaluation of sport systems. Sport for development topics include, theory and program design, inter-organizational partnerships, and monitoring and evaluation. 4 graduate hours. No professional credit.

RST 590 Doctoral Research Seminar and Colloquium  credit: 1 Hour. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/590/)
Required of all doctoral students for four semesters. Presentations and discussions of current research by doctoral students, faculty members, visiting scholars, and professional leaders. Discussion of topics critical to the academic preparation of doctoral students will also be included, e.g., ethics of conducting research, publication process, grantsmanship, and academic job search. Approved for S/U grading only. May be repeated for up to 4 credit hours toward degree requirements.

RST 593 Special Problems  credit: 2 to 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/593/)
Independent research on special projects. May be repeated. Prerequisite: Open only to students majoring in recreation, sport and tourism.

RST 594 Special Topics in Leisure  credit: 2 to 4 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/594/)
Lecture courses in topics of current interest; specific subject matter will be announced in the Class Schedule. 2 to 4 graduate hours. No professional credit. May be repeated, if topics vary, in the same semester to a maximum of 12 hours and in separate semesters to a maximum of 16 hours. Prerequisite: Will be determined for each section offered and will be indicated in the Class Schedule.

RST 599 Thesis Research  credit: 0 to 16 Hours. (https://courses.illinois.edu/schedule/terms/RST/599/)
Preparation of thesis in leisure studies. Approved for S/U grading only. May be repeated.