LEARNING OUTCOMES:
AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION, MS

Learning Outcomes for the degree of Master of Science in Agricultural Education (on campus & online)

1. Apply theories of leadership and learning to plan curriculum and deliver effective educational experiences in diverse instructional settings.
2. Apply prior learning from past post-secondary experiences to deliver effective educational experiences in diverse instructional settings.
3. Assess the human capital needs of a group, organization, or community and formulate a solution to an identified need.
4. Create a plan of research inquiry or curriculum development that articulates the human capital challenges within a particular agricultural sector (e.g., education, industry, non-profit, governance)

Information listed in this catalog is current as of 03/2020