MUSIC AND SOUND STUDIES
GRADUATE MINOR

for the Graduate Minor in Music and Sound Studies

The Music and Sound Studies Minor is designed for graduate students interested in expanding their knowledge of music as a scholarly discipline that encompasses the entire sonic landscape. It is intended in particular for students, in fields outside of music, who intend to engage with music and sound in their research, teaching, and learning. Courses in the minor may not be completed credit/no credit.

Prospective students should contact the School of Music Director of Graduate Studies (DGS) for admission to this program. The DGS will direct the inquiry to the Musicology Area Chair, who will schedule an interview and/or email exchange with the prospective student to gauge interest level, reasons for applying, and goals. No audition or formal application is required.

The School of Music has been an accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Music since 1933.
