AGRICULTURAL LEADERSHIP, EDUCATION, & COMMUNICATIONS, BS

for the Bachelor of Science major in Agricultural Leadership, Education, & Communications

Within the scope of food, agriculture, human, and natural resources systems in contemporary society, students will ...

1. Create and lead meaningful experiences for lifelong learning and development.
2. Engage in critical inquiry to understand leadership, education, and communications challenges and opportunities.
3. Assess the human capital needs of a group, organization, or community to understand, formulate and communicate solutions.
4. Apply theories and practices of leadership, education, and communication(s).
5. Lead, educate, and communicate using ethical and socially responsible principles and practices.