INTERDISCIPLINARY HEALTH SCIENCES, BS

for the degree of Bachelor of Science Major in Interdisciplinary Health Sciences

1. Students will understand the influence of behavior and culture on health and well-being.
2. Students will gain a comprehensive and holistic perspective of health which will prepare them to enter a variety of health related careers.
3. Students will apply health-related knowledge through community service and experientially-based opportunities.
4. Students will be able to identify various health determinants in order to improve equity and access for vulnerable populations.