LEARNING OUTCOMES:
INTERDISCIPLINARY HEALTH SCIENCES, BS

Learning outcomes for the degree of Bachelor of Science Major in Interdisciplinary Health Sciences

1. Students will understand the influence of behavior and culture on health and well-being.
2. Students will gain a comprehensive and holistic perspective of health which will prepare them to enter a variety of health related careers.
3. Students will apply health-related knowledge through community service and experientially-based opportunities.
4. Students will be able to identify various health determinants in order to improve equity and access for vulnerable populations.

Information listed in this catalog is current as of 03/2020