

COMPARATIVE LITERATURE CONCENTRATION

For the Degree of Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts and Sciences

Major in Sciences and Letters Curriculum

E-mail: comlit@illinois.edu

General education: Students must complete the Campus General Education (<https://courses.illinois.edu>) requirements including the campus general education language requirement.

Minimum required major and supporting course work equate to 48 hours with at least 15 hours of Comparative Literature courses in the Comparative Literature concentration and 21 hours of Comparative Literature courses in the World Literature concentration.

Twelve hours of 300- and 400-level courses in the major must be taken on this campus.

A Major Plan of Study Form must be completed and submitted to the LAS Student Affairs Office before the end of the fifth semester (60-75 hours). Please see your adviser.

Minimum hours required for graduation: 120 hours

Departmental distinction. To be eligible for distinction, a student must have at least a 3.25 cumulative grade-point average and a 3.75 grade-point average in departmental courses, complete a senior thesis (CWL 493), and receive the approval of the departmental honors committee. The departmental honors committee will determine the level of distinction to be awarded.

Code	Title	Hours
Comparative Literature Courses (minimum of 15 hours required):		15
CWL 201	Comparative Lit Studies
CWL 202	Literature and Ideas
The remaining hours should be selected from different types of courses (e.g., CWL 114, CWL 189, CWL 190, CWL 208, CWL 241, CWL 242, CWL 441, CWL 461, CWL 471).
One Literature in the Original Language (minimum of 15 hours required):		15
Ancient or modern (including Far Eastern and African) 12 hours of which are at the 200-level or above, studied in depth and in its historical development. (Normally this is the primary literature of the student's educational background.)
Second Literature in the Original Language (minimum of 9 hours required): ¹		9

200-level or above courses in a second literature in the original language. With the assistance of the adviser, these courses should be carefully chosen so as to correlate meaningfully with the student's primary literature. A student may center his or her interest on a cultural period such as medieval, Renaissance, neo-classical and enlightenment, or modern (nineteenth and twentieth centuries), or on genres, relations, or critical theory.²

Single National Literature (minimum of 9 hours required) 9 or several national literatures including comparative literature; or in other humanistic fields, such as history, philosophy, speech, art, music, psychology, sociology, theatre, anthropology, and Asian studies. Because some of the courses in these subjects are more suitable than others to balance a student's individual major in comparative literature, the student must follow the guidelines set by his or her adviser.

Total Hours 48

¹ Literature in the Original Language is defined by what is currently offered by the University (i.e. mostly English, French, German and Spanish). Literatures generally taught in translation (including, but not limited to, Bengali, Chinese, Hebrew, Japanese, Polish, Russian, and Yiddish) may be chosen in consultation with the Undergraduate Advisor.

² If one of the literatures studied is English, a student who continues in a graduate program in comparative literature will be required to acquire a reading knowledge of a second foreign language (i.e., one foreign language for the B.A., two foreign languages for the M.A., three foreign languages for the Ph.D.).
