

INTERDISCIPLINARY HEALTH SCIENCES: HEALTH DIVERSITY, BS

for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Health Sciences, Health Diversity Concentration

The Interdisciplinary Health Sciences: Health Diversity, BS is not currently accepting applications. Suspension of admissions effective Spring 2027. This program has been replaced by the Interdisciplinary Health Sciences: Health Diversity and Disability, BS (<http://catalog.illinois.edu/undergraduate/ahs/interdisciplinary-health-sciences-bs/health-diversity-disability/>).

Interdisciplinary Health Sciences (or I-Health) is a unique and innovative undergraduate program that reflects the trajectory of the healthcare industry. I-Health teaches students to look at health care more holistically and draw from the knowledge of several other fields to develop innovative new solutions to health-related problems. Graduates leave the program not only armed with a deep knowledge of biology and other sciences, but with the ability to comprehensively care for the whole person.

The Health & Diversity concentration will help students develop an understanding of the varied health needs of an increasingly diverse population. Coursework is directed at understanding health in light of several diversity factors including groups who may be marginalized due to poverty or social status.
